

RICHMOND VA' SUNDAY OCTOBER 13 1901.

NEWS OF HORSES AND HORSEMENOur First Annual Horse Show a Great Success.

RICHMONDERS ARE PROUD OF IT

Virginia Bred Hunters and Jumpers Were Good—Amaret, Hornpipe, Torchlight, Buck and Others in Splendid Form.From a venture, in a measure experimental, the first annual show of the Richmond Horse Show Association leaped at a single bound to pronounced success.

That it is to become a fixture is the universal verdict. Beginning on Tuesday night with an attendance reaching well up into the thousands, high-water mark was probably reached on Thursday, when a vast audience greeted the equine performers making the circle of the show-ring. The exhibits were fully up to expectations, and the different classes were well filled. Those for hunters and jumpers were particularly good. In fact, this department was a pronounced feature of the show. Some of the most valuable jumpers in America were shown, among them such noted horses as Amaret, conceded to be the best high jumper in the country; Buck, Searchlight, Grey Cap, Hornpipe, Blackbird, Kinloch, Up-to-date and others of this class, among them coming champions. Riding and driving or rare skill on the part of James K. Maddux, Charles H. Burkamp, Courtland H. Smith, Frank W. Christian, Jr., Harry C. Beattie, Allen Potts, Spencer L. Carter, Mrs.
James K. Maddux, Mrs. F. A. B. Port-man, Mrs. Allen Potts, Miss Marge et M. Esrey and a score of others added brilliance to the scenes. Vastly pleasing to Virginians in general was that most of the horses shown were bred in the State, which applies particularly to hunters and jumpers. Detailed reports of the show have appeared in our daily issues, hence space forbids more than a passing reference here, but it may be said that from the commencement of the show on Tuesday evening until its close Saturday afternoon interest did not flag and the attendance far surpassed expectations.

It is the intention of the management to make preparations for a larger show next fall, which will be given wide publicity months ahead, whereas this one was rather looked upon as a feature of the Carnival week, and much of its success must be regarded as due to the liberal efforts of the press of this city, which virtually made the Horse Show an institution to become permanent and worthy of the highest commendation.

With the chestnut mare Red Light, the Acca Farm trainer, W. L. Bass, won the race at Fredericksburg, Md., the instant where she started in the 2:30 class, trotting, purse, $300, and won the second, third and fourth heats in 2:24, 2:25 1-2, 2:25. There were nine horses in the field and she won the first heat in 2:24 1-4 and got second money, third going to Matagorda and fourth to the bay mare Baby. Red Light is ten years old and registered as Red Light Maid in Vol. XV., American Trotting Register.

She was sired by Red Wilkes, Jr., $61, dam Moonlight, by Twilight, 2:35, and dam Norma, dam of Guinea, 2:35, by Norman, 2:35. The mare was bred by Silas Corbin, Newtown, Ky., from whom she passed to Anderson & Sparks, Centerville, Ky., then to Theodore Abernethy, Rushville, Ind., and he sold her to J. W.
Farrar, Redsville, N. C.

By Mr. Farrar Red Light was brought here and started in 2:30 class at the meeting of the Lee Pleasure Park Association held in June, 1896, at the Exposition Grounds during the Confederate Reunion.
The giant gelding Mosey, 2:39 1-4, won the first heat in 2:32 1-2, his maiden effort; Monopoly, by El Mahdi, got the second in 2:33 1-4; Red Light the third in 2:33, when Marian Craig, by Nuthurst, captured the third, fourth and sixth heats and race; time, 2:33 1-2, 2:35 1-4, 2:34 1-2, 2:34 1-4 and got second money. Just after this race the mare passed to William A. Walker and from him some months later to her present owner, Mr.
S. G. Atkins, of the wholesale grocery house of Davis & Atkins. Since then Red Light has been used partly on the road, but trained and driven by Bass, has started in several races, generally finishing inside of the money, but was never quite good enough, it seemed, to win until this race. The daughter of Red Wilkes, Jr., is a very handsome mare, goes in good style, has fine size and speed enough to trot well under 2:30 when fit.

The dispersal sale of the Mayfield Stud, the property of J. Storey Curtis, Leesburg, Va., composed of thoroughbred stallions, brood mares and youngsters, took place at the Fiske-Tipton Company's paddocks, Shepherd Bay, N. Y., recently. A poor

MISS KENNERLY, MAID OF HONOR FROM THE SEVENTH DISTRICT.

MISS MAUD LITTLEPAGE KENNERLY.

Miss Maud Littlepage Kennerly, who has been appointed Maid of Honor from the Seventh Congressional District to the Confederate Reunion, which meets in Petersburg October 23d, 24th and 25th, is the daughter of Mr. F. Frank Kennerly, of White Post, Va. When only fifteen years of age he entered the Confederate Army, and served with Colonel John S. Mosby the last three years of the war. His uncle, Joseph McKay Kennerly, was Captain of the Clark Cavalry during the four years of the war. Miss Kennerly's mother had three brothers in the Confederate Army—William, Lewis L. and John C. Littlepage, and a fourth brother, Captain H. B. Littlepage, served on the Merrimac. Miss Kennerly is very popular among a large circle of friends, and will be a charming representative of her district at the reunion.

crowd attended the sale, and the result was that the bidding was light and several head were passed out of the ring without an offer being made for them.
The most spirited bidding took place when the bay horse, imported Saville, was put up. Though seventeen years old, this son of Hampton and Lillian, by Vingrave, was in fine shape and fell to J. A. Hodge's bid of $10,000, the highest figure reached during the sale. The summary of the sale fol-

Big preparations have been made for the forthcoming fair and race meeting at the Lynchburg Fair Association, which begins at Lynchburg, Va., Tuesday, the 15th instant, and continues four days. The management of the Association, headed by President J. H. Clark, are in high feather over the outlook and anticipate the most successful fair ever held in the "Hill City." Features of the first day will be a beautiful floral parade, to be followed by a grand tournament. The latter is in charge of Chief Marshal William Beasley and many of the best known and most successful in the history of the tourney in the State will ride in it. The speed program will be taken up on the second day and will furnish sport of a varied character. Purses are offered for trotters, pacers, runners and jumpers and some of the best horses in Virginia will compete in the different classes. In addition to the attractions already mentioned there will be trades parades, bicycle races and daily exhibitions on the grounds of Mehan's dog show. Several bands have been engaged, among them Pittman's United States Band, by whom concerts will be given by day on the fair grounds and at night in the city.

In class I, for roadsters, at the Richmond Horse Show, on Wednesday night, Mr. William Bailey Saunders carried off the blue ribbon with his handsome bay mare Lucena, and the victory was a popular one. She was driven by Mr.
Saunders and handled well. The mare had been in the hands of George R.
Richmond only about four weeks, but he had her in the pick of condition, while appointments, wagon, harness and the like were in keeping on the whole forming a most pleasing combination. Lucena is in color the richest shade of bay, 8 years old, of nice size and clever in conformation. She has a trotting record of 2:22 1-4 and is registered as Lucena in Vol. XIV. of the meritorious Trotting Recorder. Lucena was bred by Breidfield, Samuels & Crozier, Lexington, Ky., and sired by Wickliffe, dam the great brood mare, Happy Princess, 2:22 1-4, dam of daughter of Wickliffe has been owned Stool and scarf given with each instrument; terms made to suit purchaser.

Square Pianos.

At this time we have about 15 good first-class Square Pianos. We need the room and will sell these pianos from $15 to $40, on terms of $3 per month. They can be exchanged at any time for new upright pianos, with the full purchase price allowed. The very thing when you do not wish to buy an expensive piano at this time. sion.

At the Frederick (Md.) Fair on the 10th instant one day after winning the 2:30 class with Red Light, 2:24, W. L. Bass known as the handsome chestnut daughter of Red Wilkes, Jr., in the 2:30 trot and got fourth money, the race going to Silk Lace, Peggy C. taking second money and Yara third. The time was 2:24 1-4, 2:23 1-4, 2:24 1-2.

That clever, all-around horseman, gentleman jock and cross-country rider, Mr.
Harry C. Beattie, M. F. H. of the Deep Run Hunt Club and vice-president of the Richmond Horse Show Association, did well with his stable of jumpers at the recent Millbrook, New York, Horse Show with the noted chestnut gelding Buck, a premium winner at Madison Square Garden and other big show rings, he took six blue ribbons.

A pleasing feature of the Carnival scenes on Richmond's big thoroughfare, Broad Street, was the booth of the well-known carriage houses of David A. Allen, whose display of different varieties of vehicles was highly creditable and attracted much attention.

At Hawthorne Park, Chicago, recently, John D. Hood's chestnut gelding, Flaco-4, won a handicap steeplechase, defeating S. S. Tracy's Corlie, Robert Bradley's Captain Conover and two others.

old, bred in Anna's Stud of A. D. Payne, Charlottesville, Va., and sired by Jim

BROAD ROCK.

WANT LINE EXTENDED.

Residents of Elko Wish to Have Facilities of Electric Line.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) ELKO, VA., Oct. 12.—The people of this neighborhood are much in favor of the electric car line being extended from Saven Pines to Elko, from there to Glendale and have as its terminus Malvern Hill. This car line would extend when built over famous battlefields of the Civil War. Elko is about where the battle of "White Oak Swamp" was fought.
The encampments that were thrown up by the soldiers are all around the Elko farm, that being where one of the battles was fought. At Glendale farm is where the battle of Frayser's farm was, and a few miles further down the road is Malvern Hill, one of the historic places.
Malvern Hill is near the James River and from its dwelling can be seen Turkey Island Creek in its winding beauty. It is, indeed, a lovely scene looking towards the James from Malvern Hill. The proposed electric line would take in four famous battlegrounds, including Seven Pines, and have as its terminus Malvern Hill, a route no doubt that would be sure to be taken by tourists interested in the history of old Virginia.

A gentleman named Hall, said to be one of the wealthiest wholesale druggists in New York city, is the present owner of Malvern Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Winn are on a visit from home for a month's time, visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. Tompkins, from Michigan, whose ancestors hail from the Hibernian coast, is visiting Mr. W. G. Chamberlain, on a hunting expedition.

POCAHONTAS MILLS.

A Delightful Picnic at Quaker Road Farm.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)
ETTRICKS, VA., Oct. 12.—The Pocahontas Cotton Mill, which has been shut down for repairs since June 15th, has resumed operation and the new improved water wheels and machinery work finely.
They are a great improvement upon the old turbine wheels, are almost noiseless, and warranted to last for thirty years.

The former help to the mill is generally returning and their places will soon be full. The company have engaged the services of Mr. Mann, of Charlotte, N.
C., as spinning-room foreman.

Some of the help are complaining, however, because they say wages have been cut in some of the departments.

Mr. Richard Minor, a white man about thirty years old, living in Battersea, a suburb of Petersburg, was struck by a passenger train in the yards of the S.
A. L. a few days since, and very badly hurt, having two ribs broken, face mutilated and otherwise injured.

Mr. John Lee, twenty-eight years of age, died of Bright's disease at his home, No. 308 Battersea Avenue, Petersburg, at 3 o'clock Sunday evening. He leaves a wife and several sisters and brothers to mourn their loss.

There is a great deal of sickness in this section, principally dysentery, chills and malaria fever.

Justice-of-the-Peace R. A. Lewis and a party of friends from the vicinity of Ettricks went over to Quaker Road Farm, the old native homestead of Justice Lewis, on the Gravel Run Creek, in Din-widdle county, on Saturday, to give and help out an old-time picnic. There were many invited guests, the greatest abundant of refreshments, and all spent a very pleasant day.

After the enjoyable exercises at Mr.
Lewis' old home, the guests, by special invitation, repaired to the residence of Mr. Fletcher Hitchcock, a prominent threw the wheel over again and set the
